MAY PROGRAM – FISHING OPPORTUNITIES IN SUFFOLK, VA (By Mike Ostrander)

Biologist Chad Boyce from the Department of Game and Inland Fisheries will speak on the fishing opportunities in Suffolk Virginia. There are many impoundments that hold citation sized fish for many freshwater species. Each year 2+ pound shellcrackers come from the Suffolk lakes as well as the real opportunity to catch a Virginia State Record White Catfish. Chad will discuss the where and when for white catfish. Bring your questions on other species as well, as Chad a long time biologist with the Department.

CHANGE – SUBMITTING PHOTOGRAPHS FOR THE ANGLER

From now on, please send photographs for publication in The Angler to Carter Clevinger (carter.clevinger@dominionenergy.com) AND John Wetlaufer, Sr. (jlwsr@rcn.com).

Please no longer send photographs to Johnny Wetlaufer...

COUNTRY STORE CLOSES ITS DOORS – SPECIAL ORDERS SURVIVE

The Virginia Anglers Country Store has closed its doors after many decades of service to the Members of the VAC. In the future, VAC “gear” and other items will be available to Members on Special Orders only. The last Special Order was for hooded sweatshirts printed with the VAC logo on the front and a special fish print by Rob Choi on the back. Members need to suggest special orders. The leadership team will not be the source of ideas for suggestions for special orders.

With The ASMFC's Menhaden Regulations Virginia Is Out Of Compliance

John Paige Williams, Senior Naturalists with the Chesapeake Bay Foundation, summarized the ongoing efforts to protect the Atlantic Menhaden in the Bay as "like pushing a rock up a hill over and over. The threats keep just keep coming." The well intentioned request from Virginia's Governor Ralph Northam to the Virginia General Assembly to cap the menhaden catch to comply with the ASMFC's Amendment 3 was kicked under the menhaden steamer by the General Assembly. Read more about Virginia's non-compliance with the ASMFC's catch cap on page 7 of this Angler.

Forty-six year Member of the Virginia Anglers Club, Dick Stephenson, pulled lines for the last time on Thursday, April 19, 2018. Member Stuart Lee shares his memories of Dick in the memorial tribute to Dick that follows:

Dick Stephenson (By Stuart Lee)

I met Dick Stephenson in 1972 in Virginia Beach when I was working on a charter boat. He was, at the time, implementing probably the best conceived business plan of all time. He and his friend and business partner Pete Pajchak had in 1970 opened the first Skilligalee restaurant at Staples Mill and Glenside Drive in Richmond. They also owned a boat and leased an apartment within a block of Rudee Inlet. Their plan was that each week one partner would manage the restaurant in Richmond while the other stayed in Virginia Beach and tried to catch the fish that could be transported back to Richmond and served in the restaurant. For two young, single guys who loved to fish, it was an ideal plan and both guys greatly enjoyed the lifestyle. Pete Pajchak was tragically killed in an auto accident in 1973, and Dick assumed ownership of the restaurant and oversaw the designing, building, and furnishing a much larger new restaurant in 1984.

Dick allowed the Anglers Club to meet at his restaurant for a number of years. Most members will argue that it was the best of all the meeting locations that the club has used since our inception. The private dining room was the perfect setting for the Board of Directors' meetings, and the Punt Gun room was used for membership meetings until the restaurant closed.

I fished and duck hunted with Dick for many years and have a multitude of memories. He was the greatest guy to travel with because he always knew where to eat and what to order. He did love good food of all kinds, and fishing or hunting with him was always a culinary treat.

Dick liked old Chesapeake Bay and Eastern Shore decoys, little clams from around Willis Wharf, salty Chincoteague oysters, silver queen corn, sleeping late, old Corvettes, and old wooden Chesapeake Bay boats.

If I were asked to describe Dick Stephenson in a single word, I would say that he was a gentleman. He was a gentleman who enjoyed life, which is a fine legacy.

TWO EXPEDITIONS COMING UP IN JUNE

CHICKAHOMONY LAKE – LEADER ART CONWAY

Saturday, June 2nd
(By Art Conway)

Location: Ed Allen’s Boat Landing
Time: Saturday, June 2 Lunch at 1:30 PM
Fishing starting time variable Coordinator: Art Conway
aconway@vcu.org

Folks who bring their own boats can launch as early as they want. Mr. Allen usually opens about 5:30 AM. There may be one or more club tournaments running, so launching right at sun-up may be a little congested. If people want to deal with that, they are free to do so, but waiting until at least 7 to launch usually skips most of the mess. The crappies, yellow perch, and bluegills do fine later in the morning, but the bass fishing may be best just before and right after sunrise.

People who want to rent boats will have to wait until Mr. Allen gets any tournaments out of the way before he can do boat rentals. Sunrise is shortly before 6 on June 2, so Mr. Allen will probably start doing boats about 6:30 AM.

Launch any time after 5:30 AM for those with their own boats. Launch fee $8 per day or $125 annual pass

Boat Rentals start about 6:30 AM

Prices below are 2018 prices.

14 foot jon boat and motor (16 available, capacity 2 or 3 people per boat): $55 per day for basic 14 foot jon and 9.8 horse motor. Add trolling motor and battery to jon boat (a few available): add $15 per day

A few larger jon boats are available with motors for $60.00 or $65.00.

Pontoon boat and motor (3 available, capacity about 6 people per boat): $125 half day, $200 full day

Lunch at Lakeside Restaurant (at the marina) at 1:30 PM. Fishing continues afterwards.

If you want to reserve a boat rental, please call 804-966-5368 and tell them you are with Art Conway’s group. All renters will need to fill out rental forms and pay on Saturday morning.

If you want lunch in the restaurant with the group, please email me (aconway@vcu.org) the names of the people coming by Tuesday May 29 so I can give Mrs. Allen an accurate count of how many of us to prepare for. Dutch treat, variety of fast foods, reasonable prices.

If you would like a fishing report, I’ll be happy to email out the report I do on Wednesday evenings. You can also access those reports at <http://edallens.com/fishing-report/>.

Ed Allen’s Boats and Bait is at 1959 Allen Road, Lanexa, VA 23089 if you are using a GPS to find it.

I’ll be in a Nissan pickup pulling a camo aluminum jet boat that looks like a giant jon boat with a center console. My logo is on the cap on the pickup. My cell phone is 804-514-1486 if you need to reach me around meeting time.

Note: For turn-by-turn road directions, please hit “reply” while you have The Anger open and ask for directions. They will be sent to you.

ANNUAL VAC FISH FRY A TOTAL SUCCESS AGAIN

About forty VAC Members and guests of all ages attended the VAC’s Annual Fish Fry under the tent at the Maymont Nature Center on April 24th. The rain did not deter all in attendance from having a great time.

World Class Hush Puppy Chef Jeff Doughty

You will have to go a long way to find any fish fry that offered as many species as the VAC Fish Fry. Here is what species, fried and lightly breaded, were available on the buffet line:

Yellow Perch, Crappie, Black Seabass, Sun fish, Yellow Fin Tuna, Blow Fish, Cat Fish, Flounder and Large Mouth Bass

Glenn Carter's Catch At The Fish Fry
(Erin Lee Broughton, Brenda Lee, Glenn and Judy Carter)

The Virginia Anglers Club famous VAC Fry Team nailed it again with their culinary skills. Setting up an amazing portable kitchen under portable pop-up shelters, they effortlessly cooked nine species of fish to perfection and set out all the fixings like there was nothing to it. Jeff Doughty again fried his special hush puppies and Fred Cousins served his special tarter sauce. The 2018 Fry Team was Buddy, Danny and Ryan Noland, Jeff Doughty, Fred Cousins and Billy Nicar. We Members cannot thank them enough for their efforts.

Three John Wetlaufers Waiting For Food Line To Open
(Johnny, Jake and John)

The Fry Team wants to thank those Members present at the Fish Fry who helped with the clean up at the end of the Fish Fry. Stripping the Tyvek® table cloths, policing up the trash and securing the tables and chairs allowed the Team to concentrate on knocking down their amazing portable kitchen. Thanks also to Member Fred Murray who made arrangements for the use of the tent for the Fish Fry.

SCALE CERTIFICATION AVAILABLE NOW BY "APPOINTMENT ONLY"

If you have any new or un-certified scales on which you will be weighing catches for submission for catch credit, please contact the below for scale certification. ## FOUR VAC MEMBERS RECOGNIZED IN THE DGIF'S 2017 ANGLER HALL OF FAME

In the May/June 2018 issue of Virginia Wildlife, The Virginia Department of Game and Inland Fisheries recognized the Virginia anglers who are members of the "2017 Anglers Hall of Fame". Among the numerous anglers recognized were four Members of The Virginia Anglers Club who are participants in the Virginia Angler Recognition Program. Three Members attained Master Angler recognition in three levels and one Member was recognized among the 2017 Anglers of the Year. Congratulations to all four.

Master Angler Program

Arthur "Art" F. Conway – Master Level I

Robert "Rob" Y. Choi – Master Level II

Andrew "Andy" D. Bagwell – Master Level II

2017 Master Anglers of the Year Program

William "Billy" Nicar – Flathead Catfish (44 lbs., 44" long, James River, 05-25-2017)

Note: To find out all you need to know about the Trophy Fish Program, open www.dgif.virginia.gov/fishing/trophy-fish or call (804)-367-1000.

WHAT BAIT WILL WORK BEST FOR ME?

Did you even wonder what baits work best for what species in a specific stream, river or lake? That information is as close as the "Search Catch Data Base" feature of the Member's Area of the VAC Website. Open this data base and you will see baits on which over 12,200 entries have been caught. You can even gain some insight to what bait has worked best in what month. Take a minute to check out this handy feature of our Website. There is a wealth on information therein based on actual catches.

Northern Snakehead Fish Found in Lakeview Reservoir in Colonial Heights

RICHMOND, Va. (WSET) -- According to a release from the Virginia Department of Game & Inland Fisheries (DGIF), biologists have confirmed the presence of Northern Snakehead fish in the Lakeview Reservoir in Colonial Heights.

This is the ninth discovery of the exotic species in a Virginia body of water. The first on being in 2004 in the Potomac River.

The presence of this fish in the Lakeview Reservoir is the first confirmation of its existence in the James River Reservoir.

Exotic species can have a major impact on natural aquatic systems. Snakeheads can compete with fish native to the body of water which effects their feeding.

They can also transmit foreign parasites and diseases to native wildlife.

Despite depictions in popular media, Northern Snakeheads can't actually move across land. They are usually introduced to an area by people intentionally putting them in new bodies of water.

Doing so is a Class 1 misdemeanor and is punishable by up to 12 months in jail, a fine of $2,500 or both.

The DGIF recommends that if you catch a Northern Snakehead, you take a photo and contact them at (804) 367-2925.

The DGIF also recommends that you kill all snakeheads if caught.

With The ASMFC's Menhaden Regulations Virginia Is Out Of Compliance
(Chesapeake Bay Magazine, Bay Bulletin, 5-3-2018, John Evans) (BB)

The Atlantic States Marine Fishery Commission (ASMFC), a federally sanctioned board of scientists, analysts and state representatives charged with coordinating and managing Atlantic coast fishery resources, has ruled that the Commonwealth of Virginia is “potentially out of “compliance” in response to the state’s failure to implement a mandatory 51,000-metric-ton cap on its Chesapeake Bay menhaden harvest. The next step would be to refer the violation to the office of the U.S. Secretary of Commerce, which could shut down Virginia’s menhaden fishery entirely.

Virginia’s massive reduction fishery is dominated by Texas-based Omega Protein operating out of a Reedville factory employing about 200 people. The company benefits from an allocation representing nearly 80 percent of the allowance for the entire east coast. Omega operates a fleet of ships, purse seine boats and spotter planes to find and capture entire schools of these ecologically important forage fish. The fish are hauled to Reedville where they are processed into additives for cosmetics, health products, animal feed and fish meal. Menhaden are critical components of the Chesapeake ecosystem as food for other key-stone species such as striped bass, bluefish, dolphin, and osprey, and they filter the Bay by consuming algae from the overly nutrient-rich water. Scientists have established that controlling the removal of menhaden is necessary for the health of the ecosystem. Consequently, ASMFC is following through with plans for factoring in the ecological value of menhaden in the management plan, a direction that Omega Protein and some in the Virginia legislature are resisting.

An Omega Protein menhaden factory ship at work on the Chesapeake Bay.

Virginia is unique in that the state’s menhaden fishery is managed by the legislature instead of by professional state-employed fisheries managers, thus throwing the decisions on harvest into the political realm. At the moment, the Virginia legislature is still in session to consider various amendments and vetoes from Governor Northam. Therefore, ASMFC decided to postpone the non-compliance referral until August while they monitor the harvest and any movement by the legislature to comply.

It’s important to note that Omega’s average Chesapeake Bay harvest over the last five years has fallen well below 51,000 tons in spite of the fact that the allowed harvest has been upwards of 80,000 metric tons. In fact, ASMFC reports that the 2017 Chesapeake Bay harvest was about 20,000 metric tons. The company’s total 2017 coast-wide harvest was nearly 130,000 metric tons. Fisheries analysts at ASMFC feel it is unlikely that Virginia will be able to exceed the new Chesapeake Bay cap even considering Omega’s considerable capacity, based on current fish population estimates.

In a statement, the Coastal Conservation Association, a national fisheries advocacy group, applauded ASMFC’s move to hold Virginia accountable, stating, “This is a fair step given the situation, but it should be made absolutely clear that the ASMFC will not stand by and allow a state to simply disregard provisions of a duly approved and adopted management plan. We support the ASMFC’s action and hope Virginia will agree to reasonable regulation of the menhaden reduction industry in the Chesapeake Bay.”

Chesapeake Bay Magazine is following this important issue, and we will keep you posted.

WHEN FISHING - REMEMBER HYPOTHERMIA

The USCG reports that statistically cold water incidents peaked on nice, sunny weekends. Research has shown that the two factors which best relate to cold water fatalities are "Cold Water Shock" and hypothermia. Cold Water Shock occurs when water is below 60 degrees and the difference between the water and air temperature is >15 degrees. Hypothermia threat increases significantly in water temperature less than 60 degrees.

Water Temp (°F)	Loss of Dexterity (with no protective clothing)	Time to Exhaustion or Unconsciousness	Expected Survival Time
32.5 °F	Under 2 minutes	Under 15 minutes	Under 15 – 45 min
